on a twisted rucksack trip

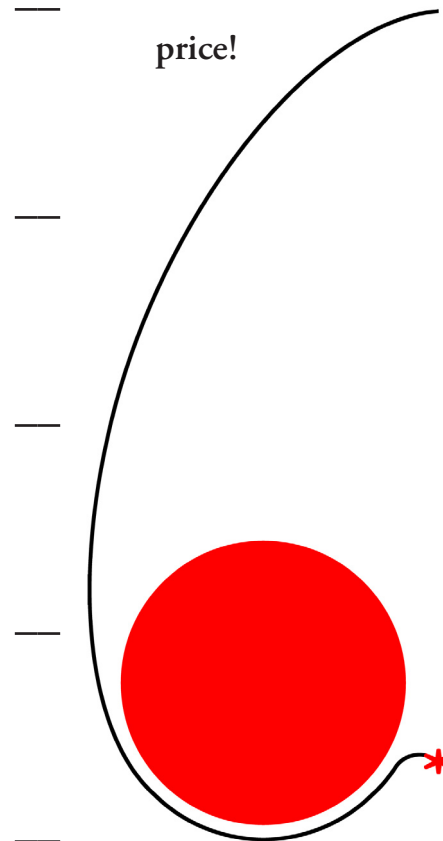

...the other day henrik asked me to make a logotype for his rucksack records company – so i went drawing a rucksack profile with a bomb – as a reference to music that blows your mind – adapted with a burning fuse ready to sonically explode – but grandson sixteen, eight, saw it as bottoms – a badge for mooning the bad team! – or is it the superior examining the pupils of the class – expanding or contracting? – all students with rucksacks on their shoulders, imagine taking a trip without leaving house... and that is when it all happened...

sur-

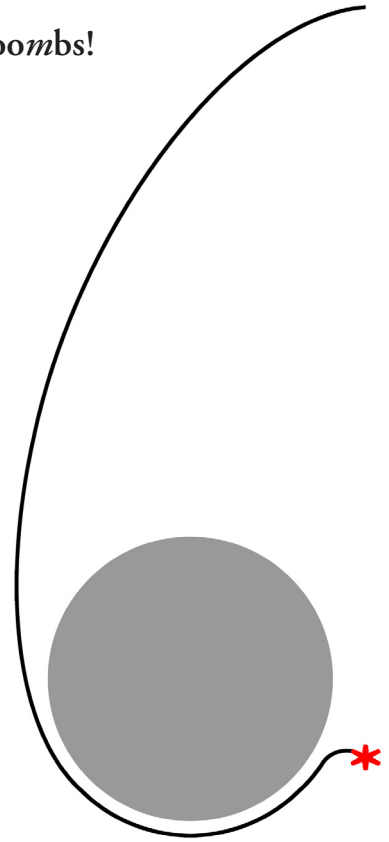

price!

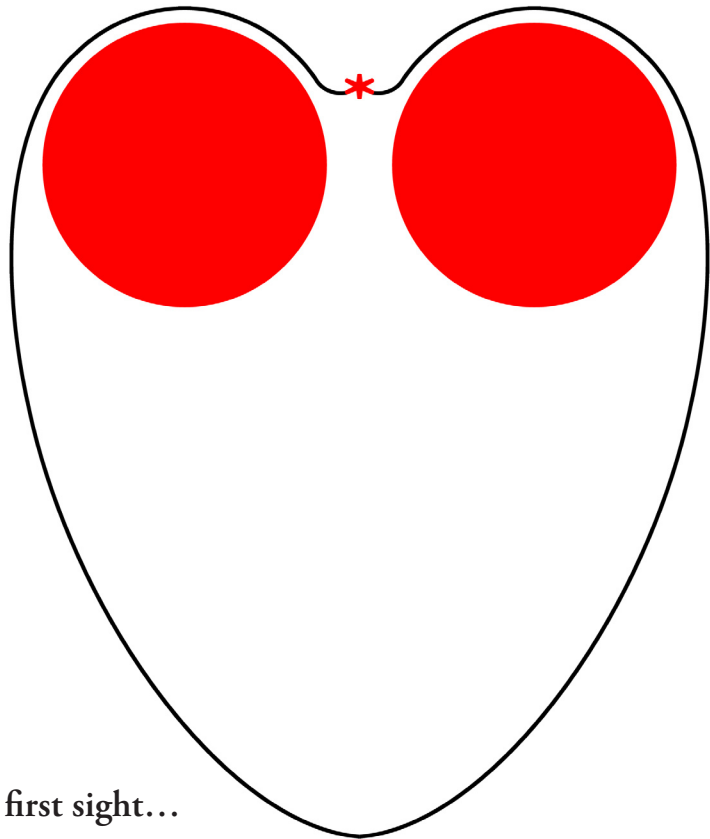

bottoms?
